The Daily Courant.

Monday, April 29. 1723.

London, April 29.

On Saturday and Yesterday arrived the Mails from Holland, France, and Flanders.

Petersbourg, April 9.

AN Express from Derbent has brought hither the agreeable News, that the whole Province of Schirvan in Persia, has submitted itself to the Czar's Protection; upon which, Te Deum has been sung here in Thanksgiving, and the great Guns at the Port have been discharged. It is now generally said, that the Czar is firmly resolved to keep at any Rate the Advantages he has gained in Asia, although they involve him in a War with the Turks.

Stockholm, April 3, O. S. On the 29th past the States assembled, and the Nobility proceeded to the Question whether the Dispositions which the Committee for regulating the Officers Places had made, should be confirmed, or not. After a long Debate it was carried in the Affirmative. On the 30th the Burghers and Peasants declared, that they would very speedily give in a Memorial with regard to that Affair of the Officers, reserving to themselves the Right of being heard upon a Point which concerned them as well as the Nobles. The Burghers and Peasants have demanded Satisfaction for the Acts of Injustice which they say the Governours have committed in their respective Provinces. The Nobility would refer the Consideration of that Affair to the Committee for Regulating the Affairs of the Diet, but the other States will not submit it to that Committee, as being composed of six or seven Governours of Provinces and other Nobles, who might act with Partiality when the Grievances should be laid before them. And therefore the Burghers and Peasants having protested against that Method, insist that a Committee be expressly appointed for the Examination of those Grievances. It is not yet known for certain, whether his Majesty will sit upon Count Freytag's taking his Audience of Leave, or whether he will consent to his staying here.

Hague, April 30. The Marquis de Monteleone, Ambassadour of Spain, has delivered a Letter to the States from the King his Master, notifying the Marriage of the Prince Don Carlos, and has delivered Letters on the same Occasion to several of the foreign Ministers here for the Sovereigns their Masters. The Marquis de Beretti Landi having taken his Leave by Letter or Memorial of the States, they have made him the Present usually given to Ambassadour, although he had no publick Audience either at his Entry or Departure, and which generally is the Reason made use of for refusing the said Present to all Ministers who do not receive publick Audience.

Paris, May 1. The Marquis de Maulevrier Langeron, his most Christian Majesty's Ambassadour at Madrid, is recalled, and another Person will soon be nominated to go with the same Character to that Court. The Duke of Maine is by a Declaration of the King which is to be registred in Parliament, restored to the Honours and Privileges he formerly enjoyed, and particularly to that of entring into the Parliament in the same manner as a Prince of the Blood. The Count de Toulouse being not restored to equal Privileges with the Duke of Maine, has presented a Memorial to the King on that Subject.

Paris, May 3. The Duke of Orleans coming some Days ago from Versailles, his Coach broke within a League of this City; a Person in a Post-Chaise passing by afterwards, seeing the Duke walking on Foot, got out of his Chaise, and offer'd it to his Royal Highness, who accepted it, and desired the Person to wait till the Duke of Biron came by, and then to get into his Coach. The Duke and Dutchess de Retz are parted from each other very amicably; the Duke allows her 8000 Livres a Year Pension, besides 12000 more she has of her own; he has likewise paid her Debts, and given Houshold Furniture for herself and Domesticks. The Marquis de Lede is returning hither from Flanders, in order to go immediately to Madrid. Several Funeral Services have been lately performed here in different Churches, for the Repose of the Soul of the late Dutchess Dowager of Orleans. On the 30th Instant in the Morning, Messr. Dodé, Sanson Galy and Fenrier, Cashiers of the Bank, and two of their Clerks, were committed to the Bastille for Male-Practices at the Delivery of Certificates of Actions and Liquidations. M. Lewis Charles, Prince of Courtenay, whose illustrious Family has given several Emperours to Constantinople, died the 29th past, in the 84th Year of his Age; he was buried next Day without Pomp in his own Parish Church of St. Sulpitius, as he had desired in his Will; he has left but one Son, who is married, but has no Children. The Marquis de Beringhen, Governour of the Citadel and Castle of Marseilles, Knight of the King's Orders, and First Gentleman of the Horse, died the 1st Instant, in the 71st Year of his Age. The Marble Group representing Aristæus and Proteus, &c. according to the Story in the 4th Book of Virgil's Georgicks, arrived safe the 29th past at Versailles; and the King spent near two Hours in the Park to see it put up by the Canal at the Foot of the Grass-Plot. It begins to be doubted if the Agreement be made with the Actors at the London Italian Opera to come hither; 'tis now said their Demand is 45000 Livres, instead of 35000, mentioned some time ago.

He from thick Films can purge the Visual Ray,
And on the Sightless Eye-Ball pour the Day.

A Gentleman having discovered, among the Manuscripts of his Ancestor, a Nostrum, or an excellent Method (known to none now living but himself) of curing Eyes and Eye-lids of all Soreness, Redness, Blemishes, Specks, Films, Rheums, and all other Allays and Diseases of the Eyes; if curable; or if there be any inward Decay of the Eye itself, or the Visual Nerve affected, or in any Degree perished, he does not pretend a Cure. He has practiced this Cure for some Years, in private, and the good Success he has met with, occasions this Publication. He needs no Advertisements, as he does in his Practice and Reputation, avoid every Thing of the Quack, and it is therefore he chuses to deal this with Regard to himself and the World. His Method is hereby dangerous, his Medicines and Applications are purely innocent, and what none of our eminent Oculists can boast of, he avoids the hurtful and dangerous Use of Instruments in the working of the Cure, through too many curable Eyes become prematurely dark. He is to be spoke with from 8 to 10 in the Morning, and from 4 to 6 in the Afternoon, at Mr. John Hammond's, in Great Kirby-street, Hatton-Garden.
